WHOLES LE POISONING AT MADEIRA. By the following extract of a letter from Madeira, it will be seen that a horrid act has recently been committed there:

MADEIRA, Oct. 29, 1829.

A most extraordinary and horrid deed, worthy of St. Bartholomew's day in France, has been committed here this week. The Governor of the Island, and the other Migneline authorities, knowing that the 18th Regiment of maintry was inclined to Constitutionalism, bribed the commissioner who was charged with farmishing bread to the troops, to poisson the bread for that regiment rebelled, and arrested the commissioner. A hundred soldiers felt immediately the effects of the poisson, and were carried to the hospital. The news soon spread; the remainder of the regiment rebelled, and arrested the commissionorer. The 2d of infantry and the artillery, (regiments rather attached to Don Mignel,) unexpectedly took the side of the 18th. On the 26th, the troops beinged the palace of the Governor, in order to arrest a major supposed to be concerned in the transaction, but he escaped on boand a corvette. The greatest confusion prevails. It is expected that the revolued troops will proclaim Donna Maria 2d.

It is said almost with certainty, that this attempt was committed by order of the old Queen and her son Donn Mignel.

There was good eleighing at Albany last Saturday morning, on 4 or 5 inches depth of snow. The Canals were closed with ice, and the North River was covered with ice, early an inch thick as far down as Hudson. But the steam hoats made their way through it. The weather has since been quite mild.

Latters from Key West, written in October and November, received in Washinghton, state, that the rumors of a great mortality on that Island have been highly eargegrated. The only cases of yellow fever have been brought there from Havana; and it is said, that the place has been for three years past as healthy as any on the continent. Fever and ague is the most common disease.
